

Raith Rovers Football Club

SUPPORTERS CODE OF CONDUCT

It is recognised that football is a passionate game and supporters will have their own way of expressing their support and reactions. This is acceptable and welcomed as it often adds positively to the match experience. However behaviour which jeopardises the safety and enjoyment of others or is likely to bring disrepute to the Club is not acceptable. This includes:

- anti-social behaviour
- sectarian, racial ,discriminatory or obscene chanting
- throwing any article within the stadium or its environs
- encroaching onto the field of play

In respect of any individual who is convicted of a football related offence or is in serious breach of SFL Ground Regulations, all Raith Rovers Supporters Clubs will support the Club, Stewards and Fife Constabulary in taking appropriate action. It is recognised that this action will be relevant to each individual case and the most serious cases could include the judiciary system and/or a ban by the Club.

This Code of Conduct was created by the Raith Forum and endorsed by the Board of Directors of Raith Rovers Football Club.

The Raith Forum is the consortium of the official Raith Rovers Supporters Groups: Raith Rovers Supporters Club, The 200 Club, The Jim McMillan Club and The Raith Trust.
